CANE CROP GOOD

The Eagle man saw a load of ribbon cane being sold on the streets today, that was above an average. The gentleman who brought it in stated that all cane planted on good ground this year and properly worked was fine. Ribbon cane is a profitable crop; it is as certain crop as either corn or cotton, and The Eagle is at a loss to understand why more of it is not grown in the county. A few years ago quite a considerable acreage was planted in this county, but in the scramble for cotton this profitable crop is being neglected.

$25 buys a fine fall suit here.

YOU get some idea from this illustration of the sort of styles in clothes for young men which have been made for us by to supply to our customers. The smart details of these suits are well shown here. We can show you very extreme values at $25; a price at which Hart Schaffner & Marx are making a special-value line.

If you look at these $25 suits you'll see the economy in them. If you want to pay less, here are suits of this make at $18 and $20, and up to $30.

OLD FRIENDS MEET

Will Nix and Capt. A. J. Rocket on April 17, 1887, were walking along in the Volney neighborhood and espied a common terrapin. They caught him and while he sulked Capt. Rocket carved with his knife on the terrapin's back "April 17, 1887." The other day Mr. Nix and some friends were walking along in the same community and they found Mr. Terrapin about a mile and a half from the same place. He had apparently not grown one bit in these twenty-six years and is hale and healthy. He looked at Will Nix "like he knew him after this long lapse of time."—Burleson County Ledger.

WORK RESUMED AT A. & M. ON Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Building Greatly Needed by Students and Completion is Much Desired.

Efforts of a campaign committee of students to secure funds for the A. & M. College Y. M. C. A. building fund have resulted in the payment of $2,000 in cash by the students. Work on the Y. M. C. A. building which will be one of the most handsome and most complete buildings of this nature in the South, has been resumed after a long delay, and it is now believed that the work will not be discontinued until the building has been completed.

The building was planned to cost between $80,000 and $100,000, depending to a great extent on the finishings, etc., and $35,000 of that amount has been paid in. A few days ago Dr. C. P. Fountain, professor of English, and F. D. Steger, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., began a campaign to secure sufficient funds to insure the completion of this building. Campus residents and members of the teaching staff who had already given liberally to the building donated again the total contribution from that source reaching $2,000. Students also inaugurated a campaign, and another $2,000 was secured, in cash, from that source.

By collecting up the bank donations past due, and with money from other sources, Dr. Fountain says that the work can be carried on until the building is completed. The structure will be the home of the Y. M. C. A., and will do more to dissipate dissatisfaction among the students than any other one institution. There will be a big swimming pool for the use of the cadets, bowling alley, reading and rest rooms, rooms for class and society meetings, and an auditorium which will seat 400 persons. It is planned to have the second and third stories finished by January 1, and by that time Dr. Fountain says that those in charge of the building hope to have sufficient funds to carry the work on to the end.

President Cushing, of the Board of Directors of the College, and every one connected with the institution is very anxious to see this building completed, said Dr. Fountain today. "In addition to providing a home for our Y. M. C. A., it will offer a resting place for the cadets where they may spend their time both profitably and pleasantly. If those who are on the 'past due' list, will only pay up their donations, this work can be carried on without delay."
